BETTY JENNEMAN GARVEY, ATTORNEY – GARVEY & BOGGIO, P.A.

Betty Jenneman Garvey practices exclusively in estate planning, probate and trust administration, and incapacity planning. She provides extensive experience in these areas to a wide variety of clients, ranging from individuals with modest estates to those with substantial assets and sophisticated estate planning needs. Upon the death of a client, she helps families administer the estate in a timely and efficient manner.

For the past several years, she has been selected a “Super Lawyer” by Minnesota attorneys and has since 1998 been selected as a “Leading American Attorney” by the American Research Corporation. Both of these awards are given to 5% or less of practicing attorneys in Minnesota.

Betty has served on the Governing Council of the Minnesota State Bar Association’s Elder Law Section and has also served on the planning committee for the Minnesota State Bar Associations Probate and Trust Law Section annual conference. She has been a frequent speaker at a variety of public and legal education programs and has authored materials on a variety of estate related topics. She was actively involved in recent Minnesota legislation supporting an individual’s right to make advance health care decisions. Her efforts helped pass the current Health Care Directive legislation.
